There were 3 members of the public present to express their concern regarding the application that has been presented to Denbighshire County Council regarding a footpath that will go through their land. It was explained that there was a campaign by Becky Mollinson White, and not the Council. This is a campaign on behalf of the residents of Rhos Helyg to prove that a route existed before the houses were erected, and if the application was successful they will give a second application for a re-route following the new road layout.
